Important Notice.

We find it necessary to call the attention of our yearly advertisers to the fact that after the 1st of January, 1856, we shall confine them strictly to their contracts, or, what amounts to the same, charge extra for all over and above. Some of our advertisers have been getting about twice as much as their contracts called for; we cannot permit it any longer. See our published terms.

The editor of the Louisville Journal proposes no legislation with respect to the exclusion of Catholics from office, and affirms that his party have not proposed any. They are content to oppose Catholics for office, as the old "Locofoo party" opposed Whigs. We know this is the dodge to evade the charge of proscription on sectarian grounds. The Know-Nothings want to get up an opposite party that they can beat, and thus exclude them from office. Such a miserable dodge can excuse only such as need it to acquire themselves of the charge of denying civil rights on account of a religious creed. Prosecutors have always had such excuses and subterfuges.

The reasons given by Know-Nothings for the exclusion of all Catholics from office is that they are at heart not citizens of the United States; that they hold their allegiance to a foreign power above their allegiance to the Constitution.

If the charge is true, Catholics ought not to hold office; for men who hold a higher allegiance to any other power than they hold to the Constitution of the United States, are ineligible to any office. They ought to be made so by our organic law; and the fact that the Know-Nothings do not propose any legal or constitutional action shows that they do not believe their own charge. They shrink from the logical consequences of their own doctrine. They do not show their hands fully upon this subject, however, because they are not strong enough yet to accomplish the purpose.

Let them get sufficient power, and the same reason that justifies a combination to exclude all Catholics from office at the ballot-box, will exclude them by a constitutional provision.

Know-Nothing politicians have revealed their principle of action. They adopt secrecy, because it was expedient. If they started out openly they would have been defeated before they had acquired strength enough to protect himself. Experience requires now that they should adopt one mode of excluding Catholics; when they are strong enough they will adopt the more effectual one of a constitutional provision.

It is an evil to any party to be made so by their great exponents of Know-Nothingism are, first, to split to pieces; second, to stop all legislation. The first is very vicious and enteraining; the second, the least evil the country has to expect from such a party.

The correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer, Free Soil and Native-American, blames the Democrats for the failure to organize the House at Washington, unable to organize.

The two great exponents of Know-Nothingism are anxious to help them, if they would unite to any other power than they hold to the Constitution of the United States, are ineligible to any office. They ought to be made so by our organic law; and the fact that the Know-

Nothings do not propose any legal or constitutional action shows that they do not believe their own charge. They shrink from the logical consequences of their own doctrine. They do not show their hands fully upon this subject, however, because they are not strong enough yet to accomplish the purpose.

The same writer says "some responsibility undoubtedly rests upon the Northern Know-Nothings, who have defeated Mr. Banks by throwing away their votes, when they are bound in honor, and by pledges to their constituents, to support him as the anti-Nebraska and Northern American candidate, for such he is." It is true, these Northern Know-Nothings are pledged to their constituents to vote for an anti-Nebraska man; and inasmuch as they are now false to their constituents, they are not likely to be true to any body else.

The Democratic Convention.

The Democratic Convention meets at Frankfort-to-morrow, to arrange for the ensuing canvass. Amongst its duties are the appointment of delegates to the Democratic National Convention, and the nomination of electors for President and Vice President.

This is the most important gathering of the Democracy that has occurred these many years, and we expect it will be the largest and most enthusiastic. Every good Democrat of Louisville is authorized to attend. The old veterans will be there, so we have no advice to give. We shall go to hear their wise counsels, not to teach them what to do.

The Democracy of Indiana.

The Democracy of Indiana hold their State Convention to-morrow, the 8th inst., at Indianapolis, for the purpose of nominating State officers, and the appointment of State and District electors for the great political battle to be fought in 1856.

The Henderson (Ky.) Reporter of the 31st, announces a change of proprietors. Col. C. W. Hutchens, for very many years connected with the press, and for several years past editor of the Reporter, announces that the establishment has passed into the hands of Mr. J. W. Dodd, and takes leave of his patrons and the press in a short valedictory.

Mr. Dodd assumes the duties of editor and publisher, and associates with him in the editorial department, Virginia Hutchens. To the Colonel writing, and to his successors we send our kindest greetings.

The pump at the corner of Brook and Broadway is out of order, to the great annoyance of the people thereabouts.

It may not be generally known that by a law of April 12, 1854, raw cotton is made free of duty in New England.

The Boston Daily Times comes to us in a new and beautiful dress. It is now a neat, and it always was a spicy paper.

A negro woman belonging to Mrs. Gilligan at Alenerville, Ky., was sitting on the earth near the fire and fell asleep; her clothes caught fire, and she was burnt to death.

We have, through the courtesy of Franklin Pierce, President of the United States, a pamphlet copy of his Annual Message; for which favor we return our thanks.

Afraid to Face the Music.

The party of artful dodgers well named Know-Nothings, and self-styled Americans, did not dare to meet the resolutions offered by Mr. McElroy in the House of Representatives at Frankfort. He moved to refer them to the Committee of the Whole and made the order of the day for Thursday next. Mr. White, Know-Nothing, moved to refer the resolutions to the Committee on Federal Relations. There the resolutions may be smothered, and no more heard of them. The latter resolution prevailed—34 to 41—nearly a strict party vote; the Know-Nothings of course voting to get rid of the subject. It was then moved that the Committee be instructed to report on a day fixed, but which was also voted down. Such a vote of the House of Representatives is a confession of guilt.

The Cincinnati Commercial, uniformly a well printed paper, is now, in its beautiful new set, not only well printed, but in all respects one of the best papers we have ever seen.

SCOTTING A BOY.—The stepson of J. Smith, of Rochester, N. Y., aged but thirteen years, deliberately committed suicide last Saturday, by taking a large dose of laudanum.

Mrs. S. J. Hall and Lydia Sigourney have been made Mistresses of Arts by a Mississippi College. The ladies are grateful, of course, and say so, in letters accepting the honor.

Heavy Robbery at Diamonds.—Mr. Bolts, of Philadelphia, was robbed, on Saturday night, of one hundred and fifty-eight carats colored diamonds, one hundred and thirty of white, and twenty-one assortments, the whole valued at $11,256.

A proclamation has been issued by Chow in the cold weather, we this morning encountered that old bird, the Ouse, of all the U.S.A., Dr. J. L. Saunders, just from a flight with his dog in Kentucky. His plumage shows him to be in good condition, while his topknot is gray and good as ever. What's out now?

New Orleans Picayune, 27th ult.

Fatal Accident.—John M. Floyd, Sheriff of Hocking county, Ohio, when coming out from his office, in Logan, last Saturday, was run over by a horse and carriage, and was killed on the spot. His leg was fractured, causing death in a short time. Mr. Floyd was highly respected and had been elected to his second term. He leaves an interesting family. —Ori. Enq., 5th inst.

The item issued in the Democrat on Saturday, Urban & Co. vs. Adams & Co., was not written by the editors, and casts some unnecessary reflections upon the company. Whatever may be the law, and however its decisions, involving the issue of this case, we take it upon ourselves to state that we have always regarded Adams & Co.'s Express a decided institution of the country. We do not wish to be under-rated, by the contents of the little item above referred to, as concerning the company; indeed, we do not take it upon ourselves to decide in matters where we have no interest personally.

JAMES G. HARDY, President.

This is rich. These Know-Nothings are like the dissenting jymyman; he never saw even such stubborn men in his life. It was quite unnecessary, however, for the brothers to exert the small disconsolate squad at Washington to vote what they have done. They don't do anything else.

They dare not vote for Banks and come home; and it would be for them to vote for Richardson, as they could not elect him if they should try.

Let Pennington vote on for Banks, Fuller for Pennington, and Marshall for Feller, as heretofore.

There is a mysterious chain connecting the brethren from Marshall up to Banks. It is the same Abolition chain—Banks at one end and Marshall and the rest of the Know-Nothings at the other. The Democrats are charged with trying to make capital out of the slavery question. Well, we don't lay that at the feet of the brotherhood. They are trying to make capital by dodging it; or rather, they are scheming hard to avoid losing all the capital they have by this slavery question; trying to carry water on both shoulders. Let the Know-Nothings in Congress go ahead; it is no consequence what they do. Whilst throwing away votes on Fuller they are doing no harm, and if disposed to vote for Richardson they could do no good, and they dare not vote for Banks.

Go it, Know-Nothings! Do stick to something. You have sufficiently illustrated your wonderful power of splitting to pieces.

The editor of the Louisville Journal has worked himself up to the point of saying that the seventy-four Democrats in Congress are not united in sentiment—not united on anything. To make the job complete, he adds that his small squad are united. He is so confused with his self-sufficiencies, that he can't tell union from disunion. The seventy-four Democrats at Washington have shown that they can pass unanimously a resolution that Know-Nothings understand distinctly, and that all fusion understands. They have nated in voting about a hundred times, without faltering, for their party nominees. They will show Know-Nothings, Abolitionists, and other factors, not only that they are united, but that the majority of the country are united with them, and that they will next year rout all the isms extant.

The New York Senate, according to the late vote on organization, stands—Republicans 16, Know-Nothings 12, Democrats 1.

The House stands—Know-Nothings 40, Republicans 31, Democrats 2.

There were several absences in the Senate; the Republicans claim 17. Several claimed as Know-Nothings voted for the Republican candidate.

The House is not organized, after a number of ballottings. So the New York Legislature stands, like the House at Washington, unable to organize.

The two great exponents of Know-Nothingism are, first, to split to pieces; second, to stop all legislation. The first is very vicious and enteraining; the second, the least evil the country has to expect from such a party.

The correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer, Free Soil and Native-American, blames the Democrats for the failure to organize the House at Washington, unable to organize.

If they started out openly they would have been defeated before they had acquired strength enough to protect himself. Experience requires now that they should adopt one mode of excluding Catholics; when they are strong enough they will adopt the more effectual one of a constitutional provision.
